Yall-UK's Terms of Use

Your use of the app Yall-UK means that you agree and adhere to the following terms and conditions. If however, you wish not to abide to the terms, please discontinue from using our Yall.

The access to this service

You fully understand and approve that the service is offered by us based upon an 'as available' that does not illustrate any sort of expressed or implied guarantee which also consists of security and accuracy. Installed material or retaining information from the service is used at your risk.

You understand and agree that the service may encounter issues that may be impossible for us to control due to unexpected events from causes like network coverage. Problems with network connections are subject to affect the efficiency of the service.

Use of Yall-UK

Within Yall-UK, Google Maps is integrated. The option to view the map is available when 'route' is selected. The map only shows your current location pinpointed in blue and the business contact pinpointed in red. It does not calculate the distance between both locations. You have the option to view the location in three different angles; standard, satellite and hybrid. You cannot connect further to Google for directions from the map view.

Possible alterations to the terms of this service

It may be likely that we may change the terms as a result of further development of which you may not be warned or notified. Although, you're agreement to use the service ensures that you accept the likeliness for variances of the terms.
